

BOATING WORKSHOP

Operating safely and legally during humpback whale season

Attend a special workshop to learn how you can safely and legally operate on the water during whale season. As many as 10,000 humpback whales are in Hawaiian waters every year from November to May. These acrobatic, 45-ton marine mammals delight wildlife enthusiasts, but can pose safety hazards for Hawai'i's boaters. Vessel-whale collisions occur every year in Hawai'i and are a serious risk to boaters and whales.

MAUI WORKSHOP SCHEDULE:

KIHEI

Date: Wednesday, January 3, 2007
Location: Sanctuary Education Center
726 S. Kihei Road
Time: 6:30 p.m. to 8:00 p.m.

Photo Credits: Doug Perrine, HWRF, Seapics.com, NOAA Fisheries Permit # 587, HHWNMS

QUESTIONS?

Call: (808) 879-2818 x 102 or
Email: emily.carlson@noaa.gov

